"LOVE SEATS" IN THEATRES

A Milwaukee theatre is trying out an innovation in the form of a "love seat" just wide enough for two persons, with no arm rests or other obstructions between. It has proven so attractive to lovelorn couples that 15 of these seats are now scattered over the house.—Capper's Weekly.

AND MRS. HITLER SHUFFLED

Mrs. Benito Mussolini, Mrs. Charles Lindbergh, Mrs. Wally Windsor, and Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt were having a bridge. The bidding was as follows: Mrs. Mussolini passed because she knew she had a dace. Mrs. Lindbergh passed because she knew that she didn't have an ace any longer. Mrs. Windsor passed because her king turned out to be a jack, and Mrs. Roosevelt called for a new deal.—Demopolis (Ala.) Times.

DESTROYING ILLUSIONS

One by one humanity's fetishes and illusions have been exploded. Our forebears shut out the night air from their bedrooms, because it was "unhygienic." We covered spinach upon our children, because we thought this vegetable to be the open sesame to health. Then scientists found night air was not harmful, and spinach only mildly beneficial.

But, we hung onto one belief. The deepest man was virile and healthy. He personified physical perfection. Millions exercised day and night to develop their chests, but they were just as wrong as the exponents of closed windows and spinach. E. S. A. Wolstein, of the University of Minnesota, after studying 22,000 people, has found flat chests are a sign of physical superiority, and that there is a distinct correlation between the degree of chest flatness and certain lung ailments. The old beliefs have been taken away from us by modern science. About all we have left is the conviction that potatoes are fattening. Any day now these peak researchers will be telling us carrots won't make stringy hair curly.—Miami News.

FLORIDA GAMBLING

The people of Florida through their legislature, have decreed that some forms of gambling are worse than others and that parimutuel gambling at horse and dog tracks under state regulation is to be condoned. This theory, upheld by several legislatures subsequently elected, serves to remove the issue from the plane of strict morality. Meanwhile the legislature first condoned and then, after an intervening election, condemned the peculiar form of gambling on mechanical slot machines.

Without attempting to evaluate the moral issue involved in gambling, we are convinced that there are degrees of social detriment in the various forms of gambling as practiced. Gambling as a rich man's pastime in relative seclusion, and gambling as a contestant temptation to children and irresponsible adults, as with publicly placed slot machines, bring markedly different social problems even though it be conceded that the moral issue is the same.

It has not been definitely and clearly established how far the state should go in the determination of moral issues and to what extent this field should be left to the church. It is clear that the state should concern itself with social problems and it is to be hoped that this administration will succeed in reducing the social evils of professional gambling in its more flagrant and, therefore, more dangerous forms.—Tallahassee Democrat.

will gladly hand themselves together to COW-operate on the problem by becoming members of the "Order of the Sacred Cow."

Developed into a strong state-wide organization he points out, it should have sufficient political power to cause the legislature to take action and he advocates that a bill be introduced that would require that all state roads be designated "COW-ways" rather than "highways"; that the road department plant more hedges and hedges along the shoulders; that the state safety department supply all cows with tail-lights as a safeguard against reckless and careless motorists; appropriation of funds for the establishment of a home for orphaned calves whose mothers have been killed on the COW-way; and in general provide for the welfare, comfort and protection of Her Divine Majesty.

The idea isn't as screwy as it sounds and if Fuller Warren could be induced to get behind the movement and serve as state organizer it ought to go over with a bang. Certainly we should adopt the obligation of the Order which admonishes us to "Do unto UDDERS as we would have them do unto us" and certainly there should be more of the "milk of human kindness" in the "pale" of civilization.

Citizens of Milton are looking forward to the establishment there of a ribbon manufacturing plant within the next few months. The plant will employ about 125 persons. The building will be constructed by funds from a $30,000 bond issue voted for such purposes.

"You get Double Range Anti-Knock!"

Every motorist knows that there are two important ranges of acceleration where highest anti-knock performance is needed. For example, you need knockless power at 10 to 45 miles per hour for acceleration in traffic and 45 to 90 miles per hour for passing other cars and climbing hills. Some gasolines may give high anti-knock in one range but not in the other. But the new Sinclair H-C combines high anti-knock performance in both ranges. With the Double-Range anti-knock in H-C you also get other remarkable qualities in performance. You get quick starting - rapid pick-up - smooth power - and long mileage.

Try a complete tankful of the new Double-Range H-C in your car today. Your nearby Sinclair dealer sells it at regular price. You will find it adds to the pleasure of driving and helps reduce motoring expense as well! Ask for the new Sinclair H-C.

New SINCLAIR H-C

For performance, no gasoline at regular price is superior to the new Sinclair H-C.

TOO LATE

TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay

Disregarding for the moment the question of a "new order" in Europe, Florida sports a gleefully unregulated "new order" in Florida last week when with solemn ritual all who attend the annual Press Breakfast at the Florida Orange Festival were initiated in the "Order of the Sacred Cow."

To Allen Andrews, editor and publisher of the American Eagle of Estero, goes credit for the idea that resulted in the staging of an amusing skit wherein an humble motorist and taxpayer, serving as candidate, is initiated in the sacred rites that esteem and venerate Her Bovine Majesty.

Garbed in colorful robes, Grand Imperial Bullion and Venerable Long and Short Horn of the "new order," occupying the fraternal chairs with true dignity, revealed the ancient mysteries, pointing out the exalted position which in days gone by was accorded the cow and her kin.

The aim and purpose of the "Order of the Sacred Cow" is to reestablish the patient and humble bovine to her rightful position and create in the public mind the proper respect and veneration due her as Florida's "Patron Saint."

Discouraged after years of militant effort to drive the scrub-oak from our state highways through editorial appeals to sanity and legislative remedy, he voted to adopt the old political philosophy that teaches "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em" and he hopes that some common sense has taken radical and humor will do the trick. So he now urges that since it seems to be our lot to have to live with the cow on our highway we should learn to defend rather than defy her.

While the skit at the Press Breakfast was presented primarily to amuse and entertain the newspaper men, Allen feels that the idea has real possibilities and that the organization throughout the state or accredited chapters, or they might be termed "satellites" of the order would eventually result, in laughing the roadside cow into oblivion.

Walter Hays, chairman of the Safety Committee of the Florida State Chapter of Commerce, helped the idea along in a big way by contributing distinctive emblems to be worn by members of the Order, an attractive two color lapel button bearing the head of a sane, unimpaired cow with a halo hung justly over one horn, designed by George White, Tampa Tribune cartoonist. It is planned to issue quickly amusing membership cards for those initiated into the organization.

Allen advances the suggestion that the new "fraternity" could do much for Florida by working as diligently on behalf of the cow as some have worked against her in the past and he hopes that this movement will appeal to thousands throughout the state who

FULLER'S FULMINATIONS

For a book to be a best seller throughout one year is an extraordinary distinction. For a book to be a best seller for more than a year is an even more extraordinary distinction; but for a book to be a best seller from year to year, from decade to decade, and from generation to generation, is a unique distinction held by only one book that has ever been published. I want to tell you a few facts about this book.

It was translated into English in 1535 by Miles Coverdale, and almost ever since then it has been the most widely and eagerly read book in all the world. During the last decade, approximately thirty million (30,000,000) volumes of the Scriptures have been distributed annually. Approximately seven million four hundred thousand (7,400,000) volumes have been distributed annually in America alone. In Germany, where Hitler has been striving with might and main for more than seven years to stamp out the Christian religion, one million two hundred and twenty-five thousand (1,225,000) Bibles were sold in 1939, which exceeded the sale of Hitler's harangue of hatred, "Mein Kampf" by approximately two hundred thousand (200,000) for that year.

During the first six years of Hitler's reign in Germany an average of nine hundred fifty thousand (950,000) Bibles a year were sold. Hitler's own "Bible," "Mein Kampf" has not sold as well as the Bible in Germany. While more than five million (5,000,000) copies of the Bible were bought in Germany during the first six years of Hitler's pagan dictatorship, only a little more than four million five hundred thousand (4,500,000) copies of his own substitute for the Bible were sold to his subjects.

Three-fifths of the inhabitants of the world have a Bible. There are approximately two billion two hundred million (2,200,000,000) inhabitants in the world, so you can readily see that there are more than a billion Bibles in the world. In Asiatic Russia, where religion has been formally and officially abolished by the government, the sale of Bibles is still flourishing. As recently as August, 1939, Russia's leading newspaper, Pravda, published an editorial urging the police agencies of the Soviet Government to be on alert in their attempt to suppress religion and the sale of Bibles.

Here in our own America, almost no home is a humble that it does not have a Bible. In many mountain homes the only printed matter to be found is a Bible. In the summer of 1922, I sold Bibles in the mountains of Northern Alabama. During that time I sold many homes that had dirt floors and board beds, but I don't recall ever going into a home that didn't have a Bible.

The Bible is truly the most phenomenal book ever published. It is really more than a book. It is many books combined into one book. It contains sixty-six (66) books with one thousand one hundred and eighty-nine (1,189) chapters and seven hundred seventy-three thousand (773,000) words. This average book is written in a few months. The very greatest of books are written in a very few years, but the Bible was written over a period of fifteen hundred years in the writing and the many authors who contributed to its writing there is an essential unity running all through it.

All systems of law in every civilized nation in the world are founded upon the Ten Commandments of the Bible. The Ten Commandments are written by fifty authors; but, despite its being fifteen hundred years in the writing and the many authors who contributed to its writing there is an essential unity running all through it.

AMERICA!

In these troublesome days—and every day, for that matter—to see the Stars and Stripes should make us proud of the fact that we are Americans.

Radio and newspaper reports from overseas should make us ever mindful of the fact that we are living in a world torn with strife and greed—but, here in America we still enjoy the blessings of a bountiful life.

Small backsets—as we encounter them in our daily life—should be manfully cast aside. And full enjoyment should come from the fact that WE ARE AMERICANS!

Police Chief Has New Headache

Winter Haven, Feb. 6—Chief of Police Carl of Winter Haven is now consulting the city attorney seeking a cure. Sinclair employed a "spotter" to buy a baseball ticket as a groundwork for an arrest. The ticket won, and the operator paid $1.50 which was used in an envelope and put in the petty cash fund. Now if the city accepts the money, it becomes an accessory to the crime; if it doesn't accept it, what is to be done with it?

It is the first time that a charge has been made to hear the band, but school officials believe that a better way of raising the money than asking for student donations to cover the trip expenses.

Good Reasons FOR GOOD SERVICE

The traditional courtesy of telephone men and women and the efficiency of the service often prompt telephone users to ask if there is not some secret formula for this consistent performance.

In reality there is no secret. It is just the practical operation of group cooperation, individual interest and pride in the job, and company spirit.

Telephone employees are selected with care. They are constantly trained, kept fully informed about the company's affairs, and are continually encouraged to acquire the skill and experience necessary to maintain and improve the speed, accuracy and dependability of the service.

The consciousness that theirs is an essential public service gives them a sense of personal responsibility. Good working conditions and recognition of individual merit are also sources of inspiration.

The company's plan for retirement and care of its workers during sickness or disability, and the provisions for death benefits all safeguard their present and future and promote peace of mind. Further incentives to their cheerfulness and efficiency are stability of employment and good wages.

Telephone men and women also know that the appreciation and interest so often expressed by the public is fully shared by the management of their company.
